Dear Mr. Sharma,

Good morning.

After communicating with Copec Marine Fuels (the only supplier that possesses LS IFO), I inform you that unfortunately there are no availability at all the ports that you have mentioned in the North part of Chile. However, Copec will revert with more accurate information tomorrow Monday Mar 11th, although the possibility of the availability is very low at this moment.

Nevertheless, if the Vessel is to pass through the Central Zone of Chile, such as Valparaiso Port, Quintero Port or San Antonio Port, Copec can afford LS IFO through Barge or Truck to the ports mentioned.

Regarding the prices of LS IFO at those three ports mentioned in the Central Zone of Chile, Copec will inform me tomorrow if you wish to receive and if the vessel can proceed to these ports.

Thank you and looking forward to your reply.

Best regards,

Dear Mr Sharma,

Thank you very much for your inquiry and I hope you are doing fine.

Will revert to you but will you kindly tell me around when will be arriving to these Chilean Ports??

Thank you and looking forward to your reply.

Best regards,
Daichi

She will need 120 MT of LSIFO , ISO 2005/2010 specs, S < 1 %, in any one of the following ports:

Mejillones, Chile;

Or

Antofagasta, Chile;

Or

Arica, Chile;

Please let me know avails and which will be the best and most economical port for LSIFO among above three ports.
